

Three steps to a rewarding career

The Career Journey map below introduces you to the three key steps that will help you to land a rewarding career and not just a job after graduation.

Start with Step 1 and focus on getting to know yourself before applying to any jobs. Work on Step 2 to develop your skills, which will give you the tools to confidently move into Step 3 – taking action to pursue your goals. Keep in mind, this is not a linear process so you may go back and forth until all the pieces fall into place.

Remember that you don't have to do this on your own – the Career Services staff are here to help you throughout the process. Let's get started!

Your Career Journey

1

Discover

Identify your strengths – skills, values, interests, personality, style. These will help you identify meaningful career goals.

Why?

To find a career that stays true to your passion and that you'll truly enjoy!

How?

As an incoming student, use your first year to explore the different specializations – Management, Finance & Economics, and Accounting.

Think about which is most aligned with your skills, values and personal attributes.

Need some help? Visit the virtual Career Peer Corner and ask about the self-assessment tool – Career Leader.

2

Develop

Build a professional toolkit of resources to communicate your skills, experiences and personal brand to career influencers.

Why?

To stand out and showcase your strengths!

How?

Your first chance to work on your professional toolkit might be to prepare an application for an intern position with a Rotman Commerce student group.

Our career peers have created a tip sheet for you and can review your resumé and cover letter before you submit them for student group or work study opportunities.

3

Action

Job search and explore with confidence! You have a clear strategy, a professional toolkit and are ready to put your plan in action.

Why?

So you can start pursuing your dream career!

How?

In addition to assessing your strengths and interests and preparing a resumé and cover letter, you should try to get involved!

Attend Rotman Commerce events, volunteer, meet with your professors during their office hours and sign up for Career Services webinars.

Engaging with the RC community helps you learn more about yourself and what you want to focus on after you graduate.
